This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

The first edition of this Bibliography was published in 1895, forming pages 677–1236 of the Annual Report of the American Historical Association for 1895. The present edition takes in publications of historical societies down to and as far as possible through 1905. For the new material the collections in the Library of Congress and the principal libraries of Boston have been drawn upon. In some cases the galley proofs have been submitted to officials of the societies concerned, who have verified the titles and suggested additions.

The compiler is in a superlative degree indebted to Samuel A. Green, LL. D., librarian of the Massachusetts Historical Society, and to J. H. Tuttle, assistant librarian. The personal interest shown by both was a most pleasurable experience. The publications received by the Massachusetts Historical Society have been carefully preserved and catalogued, even to the most fugitive leaflet. The catalogue of this collection was freely used and the result was a great gain in the completeness of the Bibliography.

Mr. W. P. Greenlaw, librarian of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, is also entitled to the highest appreciation for his aid and courtesy extended personally to my assistant.

The librarian of the American Antiquarian Society and the librarian of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania read the galley proofs of the titles of publications of their respective societies, a service which it is a pleasure to acknowledge.

Mr. Thomas Hamilton Murray read the proof for the American Irish Historical Society.

Mr. Charles A. Flagg, of the Library of Congress, who has done much toward completing the sets of historical society publications in the Library, has given most generous and valuable aid.

The arrangement is first by States, then alphabetical by name of society.

The immediate work of compilation has been done, under my direct supervision, by Miss Grace Gardner Griffin.

A. P. C. Griffin.

Part I of Vol. II of the Collections, comprising Memoir of the life and character of George Cheyne Shattuck, by Edward Jarvis, pp. 1–7; Statistics of comb making in Leominster, 1852, by C. C. Field, M. D., pp. 8–16; Memoir of American discoveries, colonization, commerce, and fishery, from Newfoundland to Florida, both inclusive, down to 1630, by Joseph B. Felt, LL. D., pp. 17–134; The financial revulsion of 1857, by Samuel H. Walley, pp. 135–160; Letters on the money crisis of 1857, by Nathan Appleton, pp. 161–175; The connection of occupation with longevity, by Edward Jarvis, p. 176; The increase of human life, by Edward Jarvis, pp. 177–231, was printed in sheets, but never printed as a volume, as the sheets were burned in 1872 at the printing office where they were stored. The following were printed separately from the same forms as the above, but independently paged: Dr. Jarvis's "Memoir of Dr. Shattuck" and Walley's "Financial revulsion." Dr. Jarvis's "Increase of human life" was issued with a paper cover in pamphlet form with the paging of the Collections, and 1,000 copies were printed by the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company with independent paging and a title-page. The Massachusetts Historical Society possesses a copy of the sheets of pp. 1–136, the Boston Athenæum of pp. 1–176, and the Boston Public Library of pp. 1–16, 176–231, of this unpublished volume. These probably constitute all that was saved of the same. (800

The third volume of the collections was prepared for publication in 1875, but a fire at the printer's, in April, 1875, destroyed the entire edition, with the exception of one hundred copies of Pierson's Helps, which had been separately printed and delivered, and one set of the sheets of Bulkeley's Will and Doom, which was in the editor's hands. The present issue is made up of the same material that the first was to have contained, with the addition of Wolcott's Memoir. The notes to Bulkeley's Will and Doom have undergone some changes in this edition. (1110

The period covered by this volume was signalized by the capture of Crown Point and Ticonderoga, the surrender of Quebec in September, 1759, followed in 1760 by the reduction of Montreal and the establishment of British rule over Canada. The internal affairs of Maryland during this period were characterized by factious efforts on the part of the lower house, with the purpose of discrediting the proprietary government in England, to the end that the government should fall to the Crown by revocation of the charter. "The present volume, being the second of the Provincial Court series, continues the record without any manifest break down to 1658. The rule of the commissioners and Parliament, after the battle on the Severn and surrender of Stone, is marked by proceedings against the Catholics, several of whom made

"The present volume continues the proceedings and acts of the assembly from April, 1684, to June, 1692. The continuity is broken by the revolutionary outbreak of 1689, no journal of the Association's assembly having been preserved. To fill this gap to some extent we have inserted copies of documents preserved in the Public Record Office, London, but for fuller details the council records must be consulted. This revolutionary assembly, which handed over the province to the King, was succeeded by one elected under the new order of things, and presided over by Lionel Copley, the first royal governor, which, among other fundamental changes, repealed all existing statutes in mass, and promulgated a new code, which is here given in full."
